

Table with multiple columns containing names, identification numbers, dates, and numerical values. The entries are organized in a grid-like structure with varying column widths.