

Table with multiple columns containing registration details, dates, and company names. Each row represents a specific entry with fields for document type, number, date, time, and the responsible entity.